I now recognize myself, followed by the ranking member, for an opening statement. Welcome. Welcome to the second hearing on the reauthorization of Workforce Investment Act of the Subcommittee on Higher Education, Lifelong Learning and Competitiveness. Our ability to compete in a global marketplace is directly tied to the capacity of our workforce. It is essential that we take this opportunity of the reauthorization of the Workforce Investment Act to prepare for the challenges ahead. With the retirements of the baby boom generation, we are facing an exodus of highly skilled, highly educated individuals from the workforce. The workforce development system for the 21st century must find ways to maximize ongoing participation from older workers who want to continue working. Our system must also value and develop the talents of all of its workers, especially those with disabilities. The return on investment in reducing or eliminating the need for public assistance and enabling...
